Competitiveness Report Series

The Global Information Technology Report

The Global Enabling Trade Report

The Travel & Tourism Competitiveness Report

Insight Report

The Global Competitiveness Report

2014–2015

Highlights

Acknowledgements

The World Economic Forum’s Global Competitiveness and Benchmarking Network is pleased to acknowledge and thank its network of valued Partner Institutes, without which the realization of The Global Competitiveness Report 2014–2015 would not have been possible. Partner Institutes typically consist of leading research or academic institutes, business organizations, national competitiveness councils or recognized professional entities, committed to improving the competitiveness of their economy. By being responsible for the administration of the Executive Opinion Survey in their countries, the Partner Institutes provide the Forum with a representative sample of data, which allows the research to be carried out.

T +41 (0) 22 869 1212
91-93 route de la Capite, 1211 Genève 20, Switzerland
www.weforum.org

The Global Competitiveness Index 2014–2015 Rankings

Covering 144 economies, the Global Competitiveness Index 2014–2015 measures national competitiveness—defined as the set of institutional, policy and factors that determine the level of productivity.

Highlights

3  Evolution in percentile rank since 2007. Sparkline axes are economy specific.

Covering 144 economies, the Global Competitiveness Index 2014–2015 measures national competitiveness—defined as the set of institutional, policy and factors that determine the level of productivity.

This report provides a comprehensive assessment of national competitiveness, measured through the Global Competitiveness Index (GCI), to promote economic growth and well-being.

Since 1979, through its relevant professional entities, committed to improving the competitiveness of their economy. By being of leading research or academic institutes, business organizations, national competitiveness councils or a platform for discussing competitiveness. Its research the policies, institutions and factors determining national competitiveness. In research to raise awareness and provides a platform for discussing these issues.

Since 1979, through its relevant professional entities, committed to improving the competitiveness of their economy. By being of leading research or academic institutes, business organizations, national competitiveness councils or a platform for discussing competitiveness. Its research the policies, institutions and factors determining national competitiveness. In research to raise awareness and provides a platform for discussing these issues.